

Local and General.

A Tacoma man says hops will be 30 cents.

Wheat, is selling at 60 cents per bushel in Albany.

Mrs. Dr. Powell has returned from San Francisco.

Mrs. R. S. Roberts is convalescing from her recent sickness.

Lots of men are wanted to work on the O. P. extension up in the mountains.

The wheat crop of Crook county will not supply the home demand for flour this year.

Hop picking is now at full blast throughout the valley. A good price is anticipated.

Cattle on the ranges, say the Grant County News, are reported as looking fine this season.

J. N. McDonald of this place is now at Lone Pine, Whitman county W. T. Chas. Cosand is also at that place.

The oldest pioneer of Oregon is said to be Jean Baptiste Garnier, who lives at Florence Lane county. He came to Oregon in 1819.

Mr. I. F. Conn, has several contracts on hand in Albany. As a contractor and builder Mr. Conn stands at the head of his occupation.

We publish the first of which we hope will be a regular correspondence from Solo this week. The notes are well written and of interest.

After threshing, Mr. A. A. Kees found he had 984 bushels of oats—an average of 31 bushels per acre. Oats throughout this vicinity is generally good.

On Tuesday last we counted twenty-two teams on Main street. This is an indication that the summer is past and the harvest about ended, and trade has commenced.

A correspondent of the Prohibition Star says there are more prohibitionists in Morrow county in proportion to the population of the county than in any other county of the state.

A. N. Reed has opened up a butcher shop next door to the barber, shop on main street, where he is prepared to furnish customers with everything in the line of good meats. Call and see him.

A saloon can no more be run without using up boys than a flouring mill without wheat, or a saw mill without logs. The only question is, whose boys—your boys or mine—our boys or neighbors?

W. W. Baker, of the Rural Spirit, has purchased the Willamette Farmer of Salem, published by Sam Clark, the veteran editor, and the two papers will be consolidated and published in Portland.

The beautiful shower of Monday evening and Wednesday morning have had a delightful effect, doing away with the dust, purifying the atmosphere, and otherwise beautifying nature.

Work is to be resumed on a valuable iron mine and furnace at Oswego, six miles south of Portland, Or., which which has been lying idle for several years past, owing to litigation among the stockholders.

Mr. C. Arnett on Wednesday morning commenced plastering the rooms and hall over Andrews & Hackleman's and the drug store. When completed the EXPRESS will occupy one of those handsome rooms.

A number of men are at work in the mountains widening the wagon road. According to the act under which the land was granted to this company, this work, and much other work should have been done many years ago.

Excursion rates have been arranged with the different lines of railroad whereby the Grand Army veterans may reach St. Louis considerably below the regular fare. The round trip to St. Louis from here will be $75.

Smith & Hammett are doing a fair business since they opened their store at Lebanon Junction. Their warehouse business is also booming. Up to the first of last week they received something over 15,000 bushels of wheat.

G. W. Smith, Esq., has completed the heaters for the hop houses of Scott, Wallace and C. O. Gentry. The former's house, it will be remembered, was burned last fall. Mr. Gentry is a beginner, and we understand has a very promising yard.

A swindling ticket-scalping office has been opened in Portland. Persons desiring to go on the boats and railroads had better steer clear of such places, for if they are caught participating in the fraud, they will have to pay full fare or get off the train.

The following is the program for the regular meeting of the Prohibition League, Friday evening next, September 9. Music, by the choir; reading, by Mrs. Talbot; song, by the children; address, by C. B. Montague; music by the choir. All persons, especially those not friendly to the amendment, are cordially invited to be present.

Several days ago a rattlesnake with seven rattles and a button, and about three feet long was killed at the Odd Fellows cemetery near Salem. It is to be regretted that these dangerous reptiles seem to be multiplying in Oregon of late.

Mr. H. Hulbert, who has a broom factory below Grant's Pass, says the Jacksonville Sentinel, sent a load of 36 dozen to this place. He was selling them at $2.50 per dozen. They are of good material and well made and should be liberally patronized.

Dr. J. W. Watts delivered an address in favor of the pending amendment Thursday evening of last week, at Rhinchar's Hall, Eugene, after which an invitation was given to all to join the Prohibition League. Two hundred and fifty-eight persons pledged themselves to work or vote for the amendment.

Prof. Rork, of Michigan, now traveling through Southern Oregon, speaking in favor of the amendment, in a private note, says "he believes the people of Oregon are going to be sensible." While we do not believe in "crowing before we are out of the woods," indications certainly point that way.

R. S. Roberts is agent for the Excelsior Gas Burner, which for brilliancy and cheapness, certainly excels anything of the kind we have seen. He will have a number on hand in a few days. 75 cents buys one of the burners and the family right to manufacture the fluid.

While in Albany on Tuesday it was our pleasure to meet Hon. T. A. Black, of Halsey, who has heretofore been one of Linn county's ablest representatives in the state senate. Mr. Black is actively engaged in the mercantile and hardware business at Halsey, and will do a heavy business this season. He is a thorough representative man.

General E. L. (generally known as "Lish") Applegate who is advertising himself to speak against the Amendment appears to be without force of character, ability or backing. Even the Springs is said to advise liquor men to send for him if they want the Amendment carried, or board him at home if they desire it defeated. He appears to be rather foisting himself on the liquor men than sent out by them.

Among our patrons in Albany, on Tuesday we had the pleasure of seeing Messrs. Wallace & Thompson, the live grocery men, who are enjoying a handsome trade; J. E. Blain, who is just receiving a handsome stock of clothing, gents' furnishing goods, etc., from San Francisco and the East; S. E. Young the enterprising merchant who is having the foundation prepared for a magnificent brick structure on Main street; C. B. Boland & Co., who have just received a large invoice of ready made clothing, gents' furnishing goods, etc., direct from New York. All these gentlemen are doing a good business, and like our Lebanon merchants, are selling close down.

On Saturday last George Sutherland bought the Solo hotel from Mr. Brenner, who will retire from business. Mr. Sutherland is a genial young man, and all who call on him will be well taken care of.

On last Sunday morning D. S. Smith, accompanied by Mr. Burkhardt, sheriff and deputy, came through our quiet little city en route to the farm of Mr. McKinney, where they made a wholesale slaughter among the railroad men, arresting nine of them for trespass upon the land where the railroad company had no right of way.

On Tuesday night about midnight Wash. Crabtree and wife and little grand-son, was awakened by the house being on fire, from which they barely escaped. All was lost except one feather bed and Mr. Crabtree saved two coats. The little boy happened to know where his grandpa kept $240.00. He got that but left his clothes to the flames. Loss $2,000; insurance, $900. The old folks have the sympathy of the neighborhood.

On last Friday morning our citizens were terribly surprised, upon seeing a horse coming down through main street about 2:30; but upon investigation we found it was only that honest old post master, and watch tinker Diley who had just been fired from one of our old farmer's plantations upon which was an advertisement—"No Hunting." The old farmer looks bewildered at present, and the hunters look as if they were lost. The case was settled by the high courts of Dotyville upon former decisions rendered.

A nice shower of rain visited us last evening, and this morning; the dust is nicely laid.

A load of very fine watermelons just received at "Uncle Dan's," from near Miller's station.

The noisy thresher is still, and men and horses are enjoying a rest, and of course our streets are alive, and chat is cheap.

Quite an improvement is being added to the flouring mill in town, which will, in the near future turn out flour by the new roller process.

At the express office where Messrs. Gill & Smith hold forth in the hardware business, may be seen constantly arush, and the many grain sacks sent out, would indicate that Canada has a plentiful harvest.

News has just reached town that Daniel Brenner has met with a severe accident on the O. P. road, near here, in which one of his legs is badly broken, the particulars of which we are not yet informed. Additional news says he is otherwise hurt.

Isaac Griffin, living near town, met with quite a mishap last evening, while hauling a load of hay. In descending a short declivity, his brake gave way, and wagon and all rounded up, causing a general smash-up of his wagon, but fortunately no other damage of consequence occurred.

If you wish to see a general rush, just call at Johnson & Shelton's store—four busy men are out the move, and at times, on double quick to wait on customers—and still they come. We noticed a fine supply of tents for rail roaders and campers at their store. So let the sun shine, the winds blow or the rains descend, the campers may still be safe under one of them.

Since last I wrote you Southerland & Bilyeu closed out their peanut, egg-croquette store to J. E. Bridgford, who may be seen "from early morn, till dewy eve," and if necessary to catch a night, or accommodate a customer, might tarry till the "wee sma' hours ayont the twal." Anything to accommodate, you know, and by the way he must be hard to please, or scant of cash, that Jim cannot suit.

Solo Notes.

Aug. 31.

Hon. H. Bryant called at Solo last Saturday.

Mr. Bagley of Newport, was a guest of Miss Edith Pentland during last week.

Marshal Brenner had the pleasure of giving one of our visitors a bed in the city jail last Saturday night.

The large warehouse built by D. Myers & Co., at Munkers for the O. P. company, received its first load of wheat on Monday.

S. M. Townsend of Albany, has purchased the grocery store of George Shelton and will consolidate the same with the stock of J. E. Bridgford.

J. B. Kimble left our town on Saturday morning last. A few of his friends would like if he would call on them and leave a small token of remembrance.

Mrs. M. J. Bridgford, one of our old residents, will leave Solo this week to make her home in Albany. We trust she may soon have a large circle of friends around her there as she leaves here.

On Saturday last George Sutherland bought the Solo hotel from Mr. Brenner, who will retire from business. Mr. Sutherland is a genial young man, and all who call on him will be well taken care of.

League Proceedings.

Last Friday evening the League held their regular meeting at the First Presbyterian church. This house was called to order by A. B. Cyrus. The president being absent, Rev. G. F. Mead was appointed president pro tem.

After the necessary preliminaries were over the glee club sang a soul stirring prohibition song. Mr. F. H. Roscoe made a short but earnest address. Prof. Gilbert followed taking for the foundation of his remarks, Bible Temperance, having one of the sheets that the whiskey ring have out, he renewed it, showing that their points were not well taken, and put an entirely different construction on it.

Miss Frank Gilbert recited "The Bridal Wine Cup." To say that she did well would be but a poor expression although she has always been considered good, we could see marked improvement since we last heard her. That she was received with favor was shown by the applause that was given her. For Miss Frank, we predict a bright future. She is a close student in whatever she undertakes and always tries to excel.

F. M. Miller made a ten minutes speech, and it being late they adjourned to meet in two weeks, when an interesting program will be given.

If the friends of the League would be more prompt to meet we believe it would be more of a success. There was a good crowd out, but every night the house should be filled by the friends of temperance. Come out even if you are not temperance and maybe we can convince you that "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" may be found some place else than in the saloon where so many go for sociability. Come out and have a "feast of reason and flow of soul." It is without money and without price. Will you come? TEMPERANCE.

Everybody should read the advertisement of Ralston Cox, The Peoples' Grocer.

For Right-of-way.

A suit for right-of-way, brought by the Oregon Pacific against T. W. Gentry, was Solo, is pending an interesting phase. Recently an injunction was served by the company's attorneys restraining the owners of the land from interfering with the work of the road on the land. However warrants were issued from Justice Humphrey's court for the arrest of eight of the employees of the Oregon Pacific engaged on the land in question. Messrs. Hewitt & Bryant, of Albany, and T. Ford, of Salem, are attorneys for the owners of the land. They state that wholesale arrests of all employees working on the disputed land will be made. The Oregon Pacific company is represented by F. H. Chamberlain, Wolverson & Irvine and L. Bilyeu. The owners of the land are E. E. McKinney, J. Shaffer and Wm. Penrose, residing in Marion county. They refused to allow the railroad to cross because they did not consider the amount of payment offered for the right-of-way sufficient, which was about $90 an acre. The Oregon Pacific company has also brought suit in the circuit court for the right to cross the Oregon & California track in Albany, and it seems mien litigation is to be the result.

Lower Prices Than Ever.

Montague is adding largely to his stock and is now better prepared than ever before to furnish the people of Lebanon and vicinity with the very choicest selections of general merchandise at lower prices than ever. He buys his stock exclusively for cash, getting the benefit of the lowest prices and largest discounts. He is satisfied with a very moderate profit on these purchases, and as he does not propose wasting the time of himself or his clerks in figuring up losses and grieving over bad debts as unfortunately, credit giving concerns are compelled to do, he can devote a few spare minutes occasionally to lay the whole matter before the public in order that they may take advantage of the golden opportunity to buy their supplies at the very lowest rates possible. Ponder these facts well and then walk into his store, note the customers buying, the prices they are paying and if there is any reason or judgment in you, you will go away well satisfied.

C. B. MONTAGUE'S COLUMN.

The Pay As You Go System. It is no unusual thing for close buyers, mercantile men and other visitors to Lebanon, to remark that Montague is doing more business than all the others in the town. This may or may not be the case, but one thing is certain he has demonstrated beyond the possibility of doubt the practicality of doing a first-class business on a "pay as you go" basis. With the money in hand to purchase his goods, he can and does buy at the lowest rates than merchants who buy on time. He secures the largest discounts given to the trade. His expenses are at the very minimum possible in the conduct of his large business, and he can and does offer goods to his patrons at lower rates than any other business house in Linn county. Now that money is becoming more plentiful, many new buyers visit his mammoth establishment daily who express astonishment at his immense stock and low prices.

Remember that we pay the highest price for merchandise produce and exchange merchandise for the same at our cash prices. Be wise in your generation and buy all your supplies of Montague.
